COME AGAIN.

That's What Hibernians Say to National President J. J. Regan.

Addresses Large and Pleased Audience at Macaulay's Theater.

Vicar General Cronin Has Kind Words For the Ancient Order.

HONORED GUEST WITH BANQUET

James J. Regan, National President of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, has come and gone, an expression of every one who heard him is "Come again." Regan arrived here this morning, when he was met by the Executive Committee, composed of Messrs. Thomas Walsh, Con J. John G. Hession, John J. Barry, D. J. Coleman, and escorted to Seelbach, where during the afternoon and many members of four divisions and prominent citizens called upon him. After the distinguished visitor was for an automobile ride and many points of interest, which pressed him most favorably.

Sunday night a large intelligent audience assembled at Macaulay's to greet President Regan and well were they repaid for the time thus spent. In the hour of the evening, when the Rev. James P. Cronin, V. G., Patrick Walsh, A. J. Brady, Gausepohl, Lawrence Ford, Brady and others. Attorney Walsh presided and welcomed the present on behalf of the Order, his introduction of President Regan putting every one in the of humor for the treat that followed. President Regan was greeted, and in acknowledged complimented Louisville and tucky for its hospitality and ability with which the Ancient Order has been represented at national conventions. After the upon Irish-American citizenship speaker gave a brief history of the order, its aims and purposes and great work it has done.

"The Ancient Order of Hibernians was organized between 300 and 400 years ago," said the speaker, "the same principles upon which we are working today—morality and patriotism, faith and fatherland, great organization has not developed, not a little from the love or patriotic principles for which it was started originally. The order was organized first in America seventy-five years ago, and is asking every county delegation to celebrate the Diamond Jubilee some time between now and December 31, by initiating a large class of new members to commemorate the founding of the order in America.

"The Ancient Order of Hibernians does not come before the public and ask for consideration on any promise of what we may do in the future. We let the public judge of the future by the history of the organization in the past. Representing as it does the Irish race, the order always has stood for and encouraged the noblest ideals of that race.

"First and foremost it stands for the spread of Catholicism among the people. It always has encouraged education among our people and I say it with pardonable pride that no people today make any greater sacrifice to raise and educate their children properly than the Irish fathers and Irish mothers. The organization has endeavored always to hold Irish womanhood to the place of esteem and honor to which it is entitled. The Ancient Order of Hibernians has stood for and encouraged the highest principle of charity among its own members, and the national organization has been the foremost in times of public distress to render aid both at home and abroad."

President Regan pledged fidelity to the ideals of the organization, urged the enrollment of new members from the young men and keeping up the high standard of membership. He told of the work that had been done by his organization in producing reforms, such as the crusade for elimination of the objectionable stage Irishman, the suppression of slanderous St. Patrick's day post cards and other caricatures on the Irish race.

Vicar General Cronin was introduced, and in a few words expressed his approval of the Ancient Order. He expressed himself in hearty sympathy with every utterance of President Regan, saying nothing thrilled him more than an address like the one he had just heard.

Following the lecture President Regan was tendered a banquet at the Seelbach. Toasts were briefly responded to by the honor guests, Father Patrick Walsh and former national delegates and State and county officers. President Regan sat at the head of the table, around which were Rev. Patrick Walsh, D. J. Coleman, Thomas Walsh, John J. Hession, William M. Higgins, George J. Butler, William T. Meahan, Mark Ryan, John J. Barry, William Murphy, Thomas Keenan, David O'Connell, James Barry, P. T. Sullivan, Dan Dougherty, Martin Keenan, Patrick J. Walsh, Edward Walsh, Thomas Stevens and William Lawler. All were called upon and congratulated. President Regan and County President Coleman upon the success achieved and pledging themselves to carry out the recommendations of the National Board.

TORIES

Are in Bad Mood Over Ulster's Fight On Autonomy For Ireland.

Prophets See a Parliament and Home Rule Prosper On Emerald Isle.

Secretary Birrell Promises Introduction of Measure Early in March.

OLD BOGIES WILL CUT NO ICE

The latest Irish political news is the anti-home rule campaign, which in Belfast a few weeks ago, hailed with much delight by the conservative press, when Sir Edward Carson laid the verbal foundation of a separate home rule for Ulster, is not giving the Tories much pleasure. In fact, they are beginning to feel rather uneasy at the tendencies of this child of their brain. In the first place they have lost quite a few supporters in parts of Ulster, who drew the at such treacherous utterances this, "that the King's army and they would attack Belfast at their will." They are greatly worried at the class of men in Ulster who so are the only ones who have received their programme with enthusiasm.

Sir Edward Carson and his fellow-landers of the proposed new government talk of passive resistance to the Ulster people and their determination to refuse to pay taxes levied by the Irish Parliament. The workingmen are asking how they can resist the movement. They don't pay income tax, or land tax, or house tax, but they are paying indirect taxes on tobacco and whiskey, and they may give up the use of these luxuries, though it is somewhat unlikely. If they do it will not be the government only that is the loser, for Belfast boasts of some of the largest distilleries and tobacco factories in the country. Be that as it may, it is certain that the workingmen of Belfast realize that the only way they can assist the landlords and house owners, who sympathize with the proposed new government, to fight the good fight will be to make it impossible for them to pay income tax. If they have no incomes, how can the Government collect the tax? So there is already a movement afoot to refuse to pay rent. No rent for the landlords will mean a rise of from $1 to $2 a week in wages to the Belfast workingman, and he will not be evicted, for his landlord refusing to recognize the Government at Dublin will be unable to invoke the help of the law. No wonder anti-home rule is popular among the workers at Belfast.

In a very few weeks nobody will hear any more about a separate government for Ulster. If a home rule bill is passed the members elected to represent Ulster at Dublin will take their seats in the local Parliament, where there will be Progressives and Tories, as in every other modern political assembly. These will shade off into many kinds of orange and green, but the only fights Ireland will see will be with words on the floor of her local Parliament, and before ten years have passed all England will be wondering what objections there could ever be to Irish home rule.

T. P. O'Connor cables that Secretary Birrell has said "to the front with some striking announcements with regard to the home rule bill. For the first time the general public knows there will be two chambers, and I believe most of the Irish members will assent to the forming of a safeguard against hasty, rash legislation. Birrell speaks with great hopefulness of the prospects of the measure and mentions next March as the date of the introduction of the bill—that is to say, the first movement after the new session of Parliament has settled down to business.

"I have just returned from an extensive home tour in England. Everywhere the meetings were crowded. The Liberals are more united now than they were in Gladstone's day. The Tories are working like demons, sending Ulster missionaries all over their constituencies and drawing the usual rawbones, pictures of the terrors to civil and religious liberty in Ireland under home rule. The Liberals reply with equal vigor. Wallace Carter, who conducted a splendid free trade campaign, is now Secretary of the Home Rule Council and is covering all England with a network of meetings. My strong impression is that the old bogies of separation and religious persecution will no longer cut any ice and that England is ready to accept home rule than at any period since the opening of the battle."

ELIZABETHTOWN.

The Forty Hours' devotions at St. James church at Elizabethtown came to a solemn close Tuesday, the attendance at all the services being larger than ever before. Father Daly, the pastor, was assisted by Rev. Charles P. Ratto, of this city, and Rev. Thomas J. Davis, of Bowling Green, who preached the last sermon.

POLITICS.

Judge O'Rear Still Maintaining His Dodging Tactics and Evasion.

Sidesteps Question About His Part in the Galt House Conference.

Local Republicans Are Fighting Each Other Daily in the Courts.

GOV. HARMON TO SPEAK TONIGHT

The closing days of the State campaign still finds O'Rear and his campaign speakers working desperately to answer the hot shots which Edward J. McDermott has been pouring into the Republican stronghold. The Kentucky Irish American predicted this at the beginning of the campaign, and now it is a daily occurrence of the Republican speakers and their organs trying to offset Mr. McDermott's remarks, he having more than made good as a campaign speaker. In this fight he is meeting the voters all over the State and by his earnestness and eloquence has convinced them that his cause is just, and that the future hope of Kentucky rests in the success of Democracy. Mr. McDermott will make a presiding officer in the Senate of whom the whole State will be proud. Have you noticed that Judge O'Rear is the only candidate for office that can be believed? Every statement made about him is false, every critic is a "liar," every proof of dishonesty is manufactured, the Galt House meeting was never held, yet he refuses to join with Gov. McCreary in requesting Judge Humphrey to tell of O'Rear's part in that conference, which finally resulted in the bringing of armed mountaineers to Frankfort and the killing of Gov. Goebel. He also made evasive answers to the charge that McCulloch, the whiskey man, is soliciting campaign funds for him. In fact he has dodged every question which is calculated to lose a vote for himself. The public is rapidly tak-

Walsh's residence by the Very Rev. Monsignor Grannan, of Washington, acting as the special representative of the Pope, by direction of Apostolic Delegate Monsignor Falconio.

The decoration conferred upon Mrs. Walsh is second only to that of the Golden Rose, which is restricted to women of reigning royal families, and is rarely granted even to them. The insignia consists of a Jerusalem cross and shield, the upright and transverse pieces of which are of equal length. In each of the four angles are smaller crosses of similar form. The whole is of gold enameled in the finest style of Italian art and studded with brilliants. The distinction is conferred by the Pope upon Catholic women for extraordinary services to the church. Mrs. Walsh is the founder of the Holy Sepulchre, a fund for the education of young men for the priesthood. This fund has increased materially since its establishment, and students of all rites allowed in the Catholic church—Latins, Greeks, Armenians, Maronites, Syrians, Chaldeans and Copts, distributed in seminaries all over the world, in Europe, Asia and America—are on the roll of the fund.

MADE MERRY.

Many Applications Received by Knights of St. John.

There was merry-making and a general good time at the reunion of the Knights of St. John last Wednesday night under the auspices of St. Michael's Commandery 103 at St. Peter's Hall. Alderman Fred Leezer presided and welcomed the clergy, Col. Henry Felhoelter, Col. Joe Breen and staff and the visitors. The hall was well filled and each speaker was frequently applauded.

The first introduced was Rev. Father Jerome Prüssner, Chaplain of Commandery 103, who said the Knights of St. John bring blessings to man and the community where they are organized. He also told of the assistance they render the church and the help they render one another. Father Conrad delivered a short address in German, and was followed by Attorney Joseph Conkling, who spoke at length on the benefits of and necessity for carrying life insurance, which protects the wife and children when the husband and father are claimed by death. He reviewed the rates of many companies and societies and declared those of the Knights of St. John were as good as the best and best than many. William M. Higgins was the last speaker, and was followed by the pleasing announcement that eighteen applications resulted from the reunion. Chairman Leezer invited all to remain and partake of a bounteous luncheon, which afforded an hour of pleasure and good cheer and was thoroughly enjoyed.

INTO ETERNAL REST.

Again death has summoned a faithful and well beloved member of the Sacred Heart parish. On Thursday of last week Mrs. Catherine Cummings died at her home, 824 South Thirteenth street. She was born in Floyd county eighty-seven years ago, but had been a resident of this city for many years. Mrs. Cummings was the widow of Patrick Cummings and the mother of three children, who are still living to honor her memory. They are James Cummings, an engineer on the Louisville & Nashville; Bart Cummings, of Los Angeles; and Miss Mary Cummings, who resided with her. The deceased led a simple, quiet life, but one of great interior beauty and devotion. Her brother, also deceased, was a priest for many years in Indiana. Mrs. Cummings was an old friend of Bishop O'Donnoghue, who visited her frequently since coming to Louisville. Her funeral was held Saturday morning. Father Patrick Walsh offering the mass and speaking kindly words of consolation from the life of her he had known so many years.

WITH THE SICK.

Thomas L. Corcoran, the well known grocery salesman, whose illness has confined him to his home, 720 East Walnut street, for several weeks, is now convalescent and expects to be able to be out next week.

John M. Connell, who has been confined to his home at 3532 West Walnut for the last four or five weeks with blood poisoning, is slowly improving. He has been connected with the Abrams & Ott Manufacturing Company for the past twenty-five years.

L. T. Conner, of 511 North Twenty-second street, who has been critically ill for the past eight weeks, continues very low, and grave hopes are entertained for his recovery.

THEY WED HERE.

James Sullivan and Miss Fannie M. English, well known residents of Danville, came to Louisville last Wednesday and were united in the holy bonds of wedlock by the Rev. Father Brady at St. Cecilia's church.

MOST EFFECTIVE WORK.

Edward J. McDermott has done some of the most effective work of the campaign. He has been welcomed everywhere by great audiences. His speeches have appealed to the intelligence of his hearers. Without passion or partisanship he has made arguments for democratic success that are un-paraleled. He has stripped the Republican platform of its pretenses and of sincerity, until both stand exposed to public condemnation.
McDermott is the type of man

SEES AT LAST.

Several years ago the Kentucky
Irish American advised the Evening Post of the political aims and Republican convention." Those "reasons sufficiently clear" were that the men renominated by the Democratic party have administered the affairs of Louisville with a fidelity and ability unsurpassed in the history of the city. Their election, already assured, means a greater and more prosperous Louisville, which the Republicans, who have been tried and found wanting, dared not oppose.

If the daily papers would look up the meaning of the word "solemnize" they probably wouldn't use it so frequently when reporting marriage affairs that take place in capitol domes, in court rooms and in hotel parlors.

ADDITION TO NAZARETH.

Work was begun this week on the $25,000 addition to Nazareth Academy, conducted by the Sisters of Charity near Bardstown. The new building will be a handsome one and will enable the Sisters to provide more class rooms for the girls and also an infirmary. It will be ready for occupancy with the opening of the next school year. Nazareth Academy is one of the most noted of the female educational institutions in this country.

BEAUTIFUL STATUES.

Sister Bernadine, Superior of Presentation Academy, has just purchased two beautiful statues, one of St. Agnes, the martyred Roman maiden, and one of St. Stanislaus.
These statues are very lifelike and when blessed will be mounted on white enameled pedestals at the end of the second floor corridor, in honor of the two patrons of purity, youth and loyalty.

AVENUE THEATER.

The thrilling dramatic novelty,
"The Heart of Chicago," comes next to the Avenue Theater for a week's engagement. This play promises to stay on the road longer than "Way Down East," "Old Kentucky" and several other of the old timers. It carries enough scenery to build two melodramas of the present day. Two of the scenes are absolute marvels of the stage painter; one the astonishing fire scene, which is a vivid reproduction of the burning of a section of the great Chicago fire of 1871, and the other is the approaching locomotive scene. Daily matinees are announced for the engagement.

Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary are sending congratulations to Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett, into whose home has come a pretty baby boy.

The Ladies' Auxiliary meets Wednesday night and a full attendance is looked for. This organization is making great progress.

It was gratifying to see so many clergymen present at the Regan meeting Sunday night. All regretted the inability of the Bishop to be there.

Frank McGrath was among the many who met President Regan and heard his address. The Democratic Chairman declared it was "one of the best ever."

There is a popularity contest on for the St. Paul festival, and divisions and auxiliaries are giving card parties and entertainments for their respective candidates.

St. Paul Hibernians will conduct a week's festival during the week beginning November 6. Two big nights will be those designated as German and municipal.

Wisconsin will be able to report a decided increase of the order at the close of the year. Large initiations were held last month at Janesville and Madison.

Division 2 of Syracuse observed its twenty-third anniversary Wednesday night. There was a large attendance, with State and County officers present as honor guests.

The Executive Committee of the County Board appreciates the kindness of Edward J. O'Brien and Dr. Charles A. Edelen, who furnished automobiles for last Sunday's ride.

National President Regan has kind words only for the Hibernians of the Southern States. He was impressed with the standing and personnel of the membership, especially here in Louisville.

In Buffalo last Monday the various divisions had a joint initiation, the County degree team conferring the honors of the order. The County Board had as guests for the occasion National Secretary McGuinness, State President Brown and National Editor Halligan.

HAPPILY WEDDED.

Many people in this city will be interested in the following, which appeared in the papers at Cairo, Ill.: "A pretty wedding was the one yesterday morning at St. Joseph's Catholic church in which Miss Alice Murphy and William H. O'Brien were united in marriage at high mass by Rev. James J. Gillen, pastor of the church. Mrs. O'Brien is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Murphy, of 512 Twenty-first street, who recently removed here from Louisville, Mr. Murphy being Superintendent of the handle factory. The bride wore an exquisite gown of cream meshing with Irish point yoke and pearl ornaments, carrying a bouquet of brides roses. She wore a tulle veil, which was caught with orange blossoms." The father of the bride will be remembered here as County President of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of Louisville, while the bride was widely known and popular in Catholic society circles.

BISHOP LUDDEN BETTER.

The faithful throughout the Syracuse diocese were rejoiced to know that Bishop Ludden was better and stronger last week than at any time during his present illness. He sat up for the first time Wednesday and shows a gradual improvement in every way.

MOTION PICTURES.

With the daily changes of moving pictures the Casino and Orpheum continue to lead in public favor with this form of amusement. The films presented at these houses are the best produced, embracing almost every subject, but always of a character instructive and interesting and to which no objection can be made. The reduction of the price of admission has added to their popularity.

WALNUT THEATER.

Next week's offering at the Walnut-street Theater is cast in a lighter mold than its immediate predecessors. It is George Barr McCutcheon's fascinating story of love and war, "Beverly of Graustark." The play has been cast with extreme care and mounted with an elaborate and massive scenic production. The role of Beverly is in the hands of Irene Wardfield, a Louisville girl last season's winner of the Katherine Davis Drama Contest.

sultors For Three Years.

Election to various positions for a term of three years was made by the members of the Western Province of the Passionist order at the Passionist monastery on the Newburg road. The Rev. Jerome Reutemann was re-elected Provincial and the Rev. Alfred Cagney and the Rev. Eldore Dwyer, First and Second Consultors respectively. All three will be stationed in Chicago. The Rev. Denis Calligee was chosen Master of Novices. The following appointments of rectors were made: To Sacred Heart Retreat, Louisville, the Rev. C. J. Brady, to succeed the Rev. Daniel McGuire; Holy Cross Monastery, Cincinnati, the Rev. Eugene Cneagan; St. Paul's, Kansas, the Rev. Benedict Hanley; Normandy Monastery, St. Louis, the Rev. Lambert Kenrick; Norwood Park, Chicago, the Rev. Xavier Sutton. The Very Rev. Father Jeremias, of Rome, General of the Passionist order, presided at the session, at which, in addition to the assigning of the priests, matters pertaining to the welfare of the order were discussed. Father Brady, who succeeds Father McGuire in Louisville, formerly was stationed here as Master of Novices. He has been a member of the faculty at the house in St. Louis. Father McGuire is awaiting a new appointment. Father Hanley and Father Sutton, who will go to St. Louis and Chicago respectively, have been a part of the Sacred Heart Retreat here for three years. It is the intention of Father Jeremias, in his capacity as General of the order, to visit the four Passionist community houses in Mexico before returning to Rome.

PEACEFULLY

Noted Churchman Is Summoned to Eternal Rest.

Monsignor T. J. Capel, a noted churchman and once Private Chamberlain to the Pope, is dead at Sacramento, Cal. Monsignor Capel died peacefully at the residence of Bishop Grace. He had been ill some time, but preached in the Cathedral Sunday. He was found unconscious in bed Monday morning and did not regain consciousness. Monsignor Capel was ordained a priest by Cardinal Wiseman, of England, in 1866. In January, 1864, he became co-founder and Vice-Principal of St. Mary's Normal College at Hammersmith. Shortly after ordination he sought a southern climate to recover his strength. When at Pau he established the English mission and was formally appointed its chaplain. During several visits to Rome he also delivered courses of English sermons in that city by the express command of the Pontiff. Monsignor Capel, while laboring at Pau in the work of diversion, was named Chamberlain to Pope Plus IX. In 1868, and after his return to England Domestic Prelate in 1873.

NEWPORT.

At last Saturday's primary in Newport, the first held under the commission plan of government in Kentucky, M. J. Costigan was one of the four named by the Democrats as Commissioned by the Legislature for the November election. Not for years was there as much interest taken in a municipal election. The vote was unprecedented for a primary, and early in the day the indications were that the entire registered vote would be cast. A large number of voters who were unable to register swore in their vote under the law.

EUCHEE POSTPONED.

The euche which was to have been given by St. Ann's Society of St. Patrick's parish on next Friday, at Mrs. Louis Kuhn's residence, has been transferred to the residence of Squire P. T. Sullivan, 525 North Twentieth street, and the date one week later, Friday, November 10. This transfer and postponement was made on account of a serious illness in the family of Mrs. Kuhn.

CUPID AT PARIS.

The marriage of Miss Julia Brophy and Dan J. Mahaney, popular and widely known residents of Paris, Bourbon county, was solemnized with a cupids by the Church of the Annunciation on Wednesday morning, the Rev. Father Eugene DeBruyn officiating. There was a large gathering of friends and well wishers to witness the ceremony.

BISHOP AND ALTAR BOY.

Once an altar boy was invited to call on the Bishop, who was a very kind man. The little boy felt afraid and embarrassed, not knowing how to act or what to say. Carefully, very carefully, he brushed his clothes and polished his shoes, and took good care not to soil them on the way. The Bishop received him very kindly, and noticing how clean he had kept his shoes, said to him: "Why, my dear boy, how could you keep your shoes so clean when the roads are so muddy?" "Oh, I was very careful to pick my way." "But this morning your shoes were soiled when you served mass." "Yes; but I did not know that the Bishop would be there, or I would have cleaned them before." "And do you not know, my dear boy, that when you serve mass you are before a far greater Lord than I am—before God himself, surrounded by thousands of angels? Why did you not have your shoes in good condition?" The little boy burst into tears, but he never after that appeared about the altar with well-kept shoes, clean hands and face, and neatly brushed hair, showing how well he had profited by the Bishop's remarks.

NEVER AGAIN!

I shall not pass this way again!
The thought is full of sorrow;
The good I ought to do today
I only met to do tomorrow.
If I this moment shall withhold
The help I might be giving
Some soul may die, and I shall lose
The sweetest joy of living.

Only the present hour is mine—
I may not have another
In which to speak a kindly word
Or help a fallen brother.
The path of life leads straight ahead;

I can retrace it never;
The daily record which I make
Will stand unchanged forever.

To cheer and comfort other souls
And make their pathways brighter;
To lift the load from other hearts
And make their burdens lighter.
This is the work we have to do—
It must not be neglected.
That we improve each passing hour
Is of us all expected.

I shall not pass this way again!
Oh! then with high endeavor
May I my life and service give
To Him who reigns forever.
Then will the failures of the past
No longer bring me sadness,
And His approving smile will fill
My heart with joy and gladness.

MACKIN COUNCIL

Hall Was Crowded Monday to Hear Dr.
Bizot.

A large and appreciative audience greeted Dr. A. R. Bizot Monday night at Mackin Council club house, when he delivered a most interesting and instructive discourse on the subject of "Preventive Medicine." From the moment of his introduction to the close he was given the closest attention, and by many the address was pronounced the best yet heard in the club house. President Robertson occupied the chair and dispatched the business with alacrity. The members were urged to hasten themselves in securing candidates for the coming initiation, and two more were added to the arrangements committee. All present were requested to attend the special meeting Wednesday night for the consideration of the night class proposition. Mackin Social Club reported that their dances were all that could be desired, and also informed the members that they might secure invitations for their friends and relatives.

LATEST IN STYLES.

Royal purple is decidedly modish. Figured materials trim the newest coat models.

Some of the new waists have the peplum extension.

Dark blouses are trimmed with mouseline de soie.

Panel effects are still much in evidence in skirt design.

Lace is much used as ruffles on skirts of evening frocks.

Rain is one of the favorite cloths for skirt and coat costumes.

Many of the newest evening coats are made with a single seam.

We see fringes on skirts, tunics, sashes, collars, cuffs and hats.

Tunics are longer at the back than the front and elaborate embroidery and fringe are used to decorate them.

The new models show high waisted effects on skirts and slightly shortwaisted effects on coats and cloaks.

A few cape collars are being shown on auto coats, but these will not be in the height of their fashion until later in the season.

In street coats the regulation sleeve still prevails, but many novel effects are produced by the trimming of the cuffs, which are made to correspond with the collar.

QUICK COFFEE CAKE.

One tablespoonful butter, one tablespoonful lard, one pinch salt, one cupful sugar, one egg, beat all together; three and one-half cupfuls flour, two teaspoonfuls baking powder, add enough milk to make a stiff batter. Put sliced apples on top, sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon. Sliced peaches are also nice.

MARMALADE.

Select one orange and one lemon with a thin skin. Cut in slices and then in cubes. To this add six cupfuls of water. Let stand over night. Next morning boil twenty minutes, measure liquid and to one cupful of mixture add one cupful of sugar. Boil evenly for one-half hour, or until it jells. This will make eight medium sized glasses.

THIS IS TRUE.

There are too many fathers who will tie up the dog at night and let the boy run loose.

HALLOWEEN

Games and Tricks Frolic
some Young Folks Play.

It is doubtful if any festival of the year offers better opportunity for original frolicsome parties than Halloween. Appropriate decorations are easily made with jack-o'-lanterns, autumn leaves, strings of ears of corn or such ghostly emblems as black cats and silhouette witches mounted on broomsticks. The refreshment problem is solved with equal ease. Sweet, slippy cider, plenty of apples, nuts to roast and nuts to crack, not to mention a panful of crisp doughnuts, and to top all off a batch of savory pumpkin pies—these are only some of the edibles which at once suggest themselves.

As for games to play, they, too, have been set by custom to a certain extent. You may "hob" for apples in a tub of water, you may pop corn, you may do any one of a dozen things which your parents will be sure to remember about if they have ever taken part in Halloween celebrations. Here is a candle trick for Halloween: Cut out of a large apple two or three round pieces the size and shape of the end of a candle. In the center of one end of each one stick a small, round piece of peeled almond. This is the wick. Light it and blow it out when the flame has blackened it. Tell your friends that you once had a friend who was a Colonel of a Russian regiment, from whom you learned to eat candles, at the same time lighting your apple candles. Then blow them out, pop them into your mouth one after the other and eat them.

OREGON.

Worthy Dominican Sisters
Ask Aid For New Hospital.

With letters of recommendation from Cardinal Logue to the American clergy and people and the approval of the Right Rev. C. J. O'Reilly, Bishop of Baker City, Ore., the Dominican Sisters who recently located in that State make the following appeal, which needs no further comment:

"Will you be a founder? Will you help us to build a hospital on the frontier of Catholic civilization? A hospital is greatly needed here and would make our holy religion known by its beautiful works of charity. We were expelled from Portugal with only our clothes on our backs. We are undertaking this work in a missionary diocese, trusting to Divine Providence and in the well known generosity of the American people—especially our Catholic brethren. Your assistance will do worlds of good—especially if sent at once, as our project is hanging in the balance and may have to be given up. Please enable us, for the love of God, to succeed and be the means of ministering to Christ's suffering members and in a manner conquer souls for the truth. Become a founder of Holy Rosary Hospital at Oxnard, Ore., by sending a donation either in the form of currency at our risk, or postal note, check, draft, etc., to Dominican Sisters, Ontario, Ore."

CARROLLTON.

Herman Seppendorf, Sr., died following a stroke of paralysis at his home in Carrollton. He was a native of Germany, and was about eighty-five years old. He was for many years a prominent business man of Carrollton. His wife survives, with five children, H. J. Seppendorf, Jr., Dr. E. J. Seppendorf and Mrs. J. H. Grohmer, of Carrollton; John Seppendorf, of New Covington, and Henry Seppendorf, of New York. The funeral was held at St. John's church, Tuesday morning. Rev. Father Backlage being the celebrant of the solemn high mass of requiem.

CHAPEL WINDOWS FINISHED.

Two of the stained glass windows for the Lady Chapel of St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York City, "The Annunciation" and "The Visitation," made in Munich, are finished. Their arrival is expected soon, and they will be put into place at once. At present there are only plain white windows back of the high altar in this beautiful chapel, which was built largely by the Kelly family.

PAYNEVILLE.

The Rev. Bernard J. Doherty, pastor of St. Mary Magdalen's church at Payneville, Meade county, has been making extensive improvements on the church property during the past few months. He has enlarged the parish house and put granite walks all around, and has plans for further alterations that will beautify his church and its surroundings.

WITTY IRISH CABBY.

A very pretty girl who recently returned from Ireland tells of an encounter with an Irish cabby in Dublin. She had started out from the hotel to do some shopping, but decided instead to make a tour of the city on a jaunting car. Arriving at the first car stand, and having selected the smartest looking vehicle, she told the driver that she "wanted to engage him for the day." "Pat, never backward in paying homage to beauty, earnestly replied: "Begorra, ma'am, you are welcome. I only wish it was for life!"

CHEESE ROLLS.

Make a dough as for baking powder biscuit, lightly roll with a pin until a little thicker than for pie crust. Spread plentifully with grated cheese and roll over and over as you would jelly roll; cut out the pieces about one inch thick, place the cubes upright and bake until light brown. These are delicious to eat with salad.
